Soon after winning Food Network's Cutthroat Kitchen in 2015, Clay Carnes opened Cholo Soy Cocina along Antique Row in West Palm Beach. Inspired by his years cooking in Cuenca, Ecuador, the cozy spot channels a Latin American street-stand vibe with tacos, bowls, and house-made tortillas. Carnes smokes his own meats, and his signature Chancho taco is a fan favorite. Cholo Soy even earned a feature on Food Network's Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives.
